The application will take care of the rest. Why we like it: No power options to offer more control Free to download A simple VPN application for everyone A VPN for the whole family Even if you do not have a VPN application installed on your PC, you can use VPN PRO. You only need to connect to the server located in your selected country, although a quick look at the list of options will provide more information about the real server you are connecting to. While the connection is running, you can access all the information you need by just clicking the icon in the system tray. VPN PRO supports a single connection, but for higher security, you can use a Private Network tunnel (PPTP, L2TP, IPSec or SSTP). All these VPN protocols support Multi-Protocol (IPv4/IPv6), OpenVPN, and IKEv2 and AES 128-bit encryption. It is also worth mentioning that all the VPN connections in use are encrypted using a 2048 bit key, the standard recommended by all VPN providers. A simple interface for all users When you want to connect to the VPN server, you will need to know the IP address of the connection point, what it is called, and the URL for accessing it. This is it. VPN PRO has a simple interface, so that you will be able to connect to the server immediately, and you will not have to face any problem. Another great thing is that once connected, you can access all the web servers and resources that are hosted in your real country and are accessible only by visitors from the country you are connected to. What's New in the?

WireGuard is a fast, modern, easy-to-use VPN. WireGuard does not support IPsec protocols, but it is perfectly capable of creating a secure tunnel over a wide variety of transport protocols (including UDP, TCP, and custom protocols). It is intended to replace OpenVPN in most cases. The connection is secured with a pre-shared key, with which every client and server must communicate to exchange data. Connection is established in less than a second with no authentication needed on either side. It is very quick to set up and start using, which is a very good thing, because there are no configuration parameters. There is also no conflict with other applications, because the connection is established in a way that ensures it will never interfere with anything. There is no documentation for WireGuard, but it is fast, secure, and easy to use. The only drawback is that there is no GUI for the client side. This means you will have to use the command-line client. Compared to StrongSwan is a modern, high performance and stable IPsec VPN server. With a focus on security and security-by-obscurity, StrongSwan was the first to implement kernel-level IPsec offloading and IPv6 support. This is a large VPN, with features that are often not found on other servers. On top of that, the client is stable and easy to configure. With a unique key exchange mechanism, authentication, and a large network of servers and clients.

StrongSwan is a powerful IPsec VPN. There are several ways to activate the VPN. The GUI can be used to manually configure a connection with a network. The advantage of this is that it is possible to get a connection to a specific server, which would be quite difficult to do manually. You can also use VPN PRO to remotely activate the VPN service, provided the connection is active. When a VPN connection is active, you can use the web client to configure a connection. The good thing about it is that the configuration is done through the web interface, which is much more convenient and requires no downloading. Easy to setup and use The application consists of two parts. One is used for manually configuring a connection with the selected server. The other one is used for connecting to the service remotely. You can connect to a server with a network or local configuration. In both cases, the service connects through a pre-shared key. When you open the GUI of the application, you can select the server from a drop-down list. It will show the selected server's IP address. You can also select the connection method, which will determine if you will be connected to the VPN from a local IP or an external IP. The application will prompt you to choose the desired location and language. There is also an option to check if the connection is established or not.
